PREFACE.

THE publication of these Registers was an after-thought. The original idea was merely to index them for convenience of reference. They proved, however, upon examination, to be, through neglect and exposure to damp, in such a dilapidated and perishing condition that it seemed advisable to copy them from the beginning to the year 1812. The late Canon Raine, hearing of what had been done, strongly urged their publication, and kindly offered his assistance to that end.

The present issue, mainly on the ground of expense, is confined to the two first volumes of the Registers. They possess some considerable interest as being, with the exception of St. Olave's Registers (and this only from the fact that the first page is wanting), the oldest Parish Registers in the City of York—dating from 1539,—and, consequently, affording, in the record of Burials for 1550 and 1551, a vivid idea of the terrible mortality caused by the plague, or "visitation" as it is called, of those years.

They are also interesting as illustrating the customs, occupations, nomenclature and etymology of the period which they cover, and as containing the records of some of the county families who, in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, had their town houses in this part of the city.

The first volume, still in its original limp parchment cover (the leather laces, to which the sections were sewn, still remaining), contains 54 leaves of paper and 20 of parchment, the 1st, 4th, and 27th leaves missing, and the 47th half torn out. The former are much worn at the edges, but beautifully and regularly written as far as 1575, suggesting that they have been copied from another book. After that date the writing is less regular, and in a variety of hands. At the year 1634 about 30 blank paper sheets have been removed and their place supplied by the parchment.

The second volume is in good preservation. It consists of 69 parchment leaves (1653-1734), and has been carefully written throughout.

Its opening record of the appointment of Marmaduke Todd as "Register" of the Parish, Mr. Christopher Cartwright being "Minister," witnesses the interference of the civil power with the Church under the Commonwealth.

I would here gratefully acknowledge my obligations to Canon Raine for occasional valuable help in decipherment, and especially to Dr. Collins, of Pateley Bridge (late of Fulford), for his great kindness in revising the MSS. throughout for the press.
